

CARS OUTRAGEOUS, SAYS A CITIZEN

Brightwood Service Scored by a Taxpayer.

NEW DIRECTORS ELECTED

Abuses Discussed by Those Responsible for Them at the Annual Meeting Yesterday.

"An outrage to humanity" are the words used by W. B. Stewart, a prominent resident of Potomac, to describe the Brightwood car service. Mr. Stewart suggests a plan to remedy conditions immediately and without great expense. "I have read with interest the remarks of W. M. Terrell, printed in The Times of the 14th instant relative to the Brightwood car service," he said, "and I am sure it is an outrage on humanity to compel women and children to stand in the cold, in the rain and snow, to wait for cars to take them to their homes."

Suggests a Loop.
"Petitions for better service appear to have no effect, and to threaten to take the matter to Congress consumes time, while the people are shivering. What is wanted is a remedy at once—not next summer."

"I would suggest to the railway company that two extra cars be placed in service during the busy hours of the day to run from the 'loop' at the terminus of the Ninth Street car line to Richmond Street, or to the Soldiers' Home, if you please; these two cars to leave each point at the same time and in between the regular cars, now in force. This would relieve the congestion and take care of the local traffic 'just over the hill,' insuring plenty of room for the people who must go beyond Richmond Street."

"While this is not what is wanted, it would help some and be a starter in the right direction."

"The Times deserves the grateful thanks of the people living in the suburbs, who are compelled to use these cars, for its championship of their cause."

Stockholders Meet.

Stockholders of the Washington Railway and Electric Company, now the center of a public crusade for better service, met yesterday, and in addition to electing directors, briefly considered the demands of the citizens. While no action was taken, the stockholders expressed their desire to be in harmony with the patrons of the various lines, and the officers of the company were indirectly ordered to do all in their power to remedy conditions.

Situation Explained.

The situation was explained by Gen. George H. Harries, vice president of the company, who described his recent conference with the special committee of the Business Men's Association, at which he promised to answer their demands so far as possible. This action was endorsed by the stockholders.

The following were elected as directors: George Truesdell, George W. Young, Allan L. McDermott, R. T. W. Duke, Jr., George H. Harries, S. L. Shrober, Jr., and James D. Lackey. These directors, with the addition of F. W. Fuller, and W. F. Ham, were elected to the directorate of the Brightwood Railway Company, the City and Suburban Railway Company, the Annapolis and Potomac Railway Company, the Georgetown and Tenleytown Railway Company, and the Potomac Electric Power Company.

LEADER MURPHY NOT FOR PARKER

At Least, Not Unless Forced Into Line.

NO ENTHUSIASM IN GOTHAM

Visiting National Committeemen Surprised After Having Listened to "Pat" McCarren.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—All the Democratic national committeemen who came to town early in the week to find out something about the political situation here have returned to their homes except Norman E. Mack, of Buffalo. They did not make any startling discoveries. Charles F. Murphy talked to them just as he talked to the reporters yesterday, and left the committeemen doubtful as to the position of Tammany.

No Parker Boom Here.

One thing the visitors learned, namely, that there are no indications of enthusiasm for Judge Parker among the Democrats of New York. McCarren gave them the idea, at the national committee meeting in Washington, that the whole Democratic party of New York State was for Parker, and they were rather surprised when they saw no interest in the Parker boom here.

So far, not one Tammany leader has declared for Parker. The district chiefs are waiting for Charles F. Murphy to take his position, before they take theirs, and up to date Murphy has not said a word in favor of any possible candidate except Mr. Cleveland. Still, if it becomes apparent later that Parker is the choice of most of the Democrats of the country, Murphy will bring the New York delegation to his support and get some of the credit for his nomination.

Murphy Fears Hill.

He is opposed to Parker because he believes that if Parker were elected President, David B. Hill would dispense the Federal patronage in this city, and do all in his power to injure Tammany Hall. Still, if it becomes apparent later that Parker is the choice of most of the Democrats of the country, Murphy will bring the New York delegation to his support and get some of the credit for his nomination.

PRIZES FOR BANK ESSAYS AWARDED TO WINNERS

Many People Witness the Exercises at the Barton—New Officers Elected by Clerks' Association.

Prizes offered by Charles J. Bell to Washington bank clerks for the three best essays on "How Employees May Build Up Bank Business," were awarded at a meeting of the local chapter of the American Institute of Bank Clerks, at the Barton, last night.

The first prize of $25 goes to W. Frank D. Herron, of the Union Trust and Savings Company; the second, $15, to George O. Watson, of the National Capital Bank; and the third, $10, to John M. Rindon, also of the National Capital Bank. Honorable mention was made of the paper written by George H. Felt, of the American Security and Trust Company. Prizes judges were William D. Hovory, William F. Cox, and Albion K. Parris.

Many New Ideas.

Thirteen essays were submitted in the contest, and those winning prizes were read before the meeting. The papers center largely around the attitude of bank employees toward customers, the necessity of observing minute details, and suggestions as to how the business may be extended to quarters not extensively explored. New ideas on banking methods are brought out with concise explanations, and show that the authors hold a clear view on the subject.

Election of Officers.

The election of officers for the ensuing year was announced as follows: George W. White, of the National Metropolitan Bank, president; Thomas Marshall, Jr., of Crane, Parris & Co., vice president; A. G. Plant, of the National Safe Deposit and Trust Company, secretary; and John Poole, of the Washington Loan and Trust Company, treasurer. Committees were appointed to carry on the work of the local chapter during the coming year.

Announcement was made that the association would hold its annual excursion June 22, at Marshall Hall.

MASKED MEN ROB BANK.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Jan. 16.—A special receiver here says that masked men last night robbed the Belen Bank, at Belen, N. M., of $11,000. A strong posse is in pursuit.

SUCCESS ASSURED UNIVERSITY CLUB

Many College Men Hasten to Affiliate.

THE LIMIT MAY BE RAISED

Names of Those Who Represent Various Institutions on the Central Board.

Success seems assured for the proposed University Club, which has been engaging the attention of the college men in Washington for the past month. At the meeting of the central committee, held in the New Willard last night, it was announced that 400 applications for membership had been received in the past week. There were sixty-two colleges represented in the applications last week. Princeton led with forty, Yale was second with twenty-three, and Harvard a close third with twenty-two.

Discussed Plans.

The central committee, with Proctor L. Dougherty presiding, met to discuss plans with the executive committee, composed of Ellis Spear, Edwin H. Fowler, George C. Totten, Jr., Isaac Hitt, Jr., Wallace D. McLean, and Ralph P. Barnard, secretary. Mr. Barnard reported that he had sent out from his office in the Columbian Building more than three thousand invitations to college men to make application for membership into the club.

Answers making application for membership have been received from members of the United States Supreme Court, the Supreme Court of the District, Senators, Representatives, and the heads of some of the most important and influential of the Government bureaus. Assistant Secretary of War, also on the application list, and before the club is formed it is expected that several of the members of the Cabinet will be among the charter members.

So rapid has been the progress in forming the club, and so strong a hold has it taken in the college men of the city, that it is the feeling of the preliminary work will all be completed in a month, and the club will have the money, and be in the position to negotiate for a house.

Committees Named.

Committees on membership, with sub-committees on eligibility, and acceptability, have been named by the executive committee, but the names were not given out last night. Wallace D. McLean, of the executive committee, spent two days in New York last week discussing eligibility rules with the membership committee of the University Club of that city, but the Washington committee has not yet definitely fixed upon what colleges will be entitled to have their graduates join the club.

It is more than gratifying to note that, so far as Washington is concerned, there is no cause to complain, for the figures not only show no falling off, but, on the contrary, a notable gain both in the number of permits issued and the cost of construction. In the year just passed there were issued here, according to the figures of the "Construction News," 5,200 permits, involving an expenditure of $13,798,377, against 4,307 permits and an expenditure of $10,245,983 in 1902. This is a net gain of 23 per cent, and there are only two cities ahead of Washington, viz: Atlanta, which has a gain of 99 per cent in its permits, and Los Angeles, which shows an increase of 38 per cent. The greatest loss recorded is in Chicago, which registers a decrease of 30 per cent, with San Francisco second with 19 per cent. The "Construction News" concludes its summary with this statement:

"From all of the cities enumerated in the foregoing came the same statement of interference with operations, first by labor troubles, and second the alleged high prices of materials. Architects and builders generally express the opinion that 1904 will surpass the year just closed, while the facts as they come to hand from correspondents in other cities bear out their statement."

It is believed that this will be a prosperous year for those interested in the building industry."

Investment in Big Buildings.

"Perhaps the most striking advantage Washington ought to enjoy, in the immediate future, will be derived from the large sums of money which private enterprise has invested in apartment houses, hotels, and costly residences," said Louis P. Ehoemaker, the well-known real estate agent, in the course of conversation.

"Comparatively few men care to be pioneers in the investment of money, but thousands are willing to follow those who have illustrated that success can be obtained in a particular direction. Ten years ago, those desiring to make investments amounting to $100,000, $200,000, and $300,000, naturally went to cities where large sums of money had been invested. Recently, however, Washington has increased rapidly in population, as well as municipal, corporate, individual, and Federal wealth. The old city has been built up and improved—the entire District of Columbia, which, under the Constitution of the United States, is the home of our National Government, and really the city of Washington."

McCREA MAKES DENIAL.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 16.—James McCrea, first vice president of the Pennsylvania lines, in reply to a request today for a statement regarding the report from Philadelphia that he is to be made president of the Pennsylvania Railroad in place of A. J. Cassatt, practically denied the truth of the report.

"77" FOR GRIP

Induce Perspiration.

To stop the Grip or Influenza, to break up a cold, to prevent pneumonia, you must induce perspiration. The first noticeable feeling of "catching cold" is caused by checked circulation of the blood. This is the time to take Dr. Humphreys' "Seventy-Seven"—it immediately starts the blood coursing through the veins, induces perspiration, and breaks up the cold.

The tonic of "77" sustains the system during and restores the vigor after the attack. At Druggists', 25 cents.

COLUMBIA ROAD AGAIN INVITES INVESTORS

Lansburgh Tract Out of Court and Open to Settlement—Washington's Big Gain Last Year in Building Operations.

An important incident in the real estate situation is the termination of the long standing litigation involving what is known as the Lansburgh tract, on Columbia Road and Nineteenth Street, containing about 114,000 square feet. This piece of land lies in the immediate vicinity of several other similarly large tracts that recently have changed ownership, and it is now on the market for investment purposes. It is in the line of the improvement that has been steadily going on in the neighborhood of Rock Creek Park, and which bids fair to continue for a number of years until the entire territory along the line of the Columbia Road and Chevy Chase Railways has undergone the change which has been so vigorously begun. The court having appointed trustees for the sale of the Lansburgh tract, it now remains to be seen whether some syndicate will take hold of it, or it must be subdivided and sold in single lots.

"Ten or twelve years ago when the boom was on, so to speak, in real estate, we thought down town real estate was high at $10 to $15 per foot; now we often hear of sales at twice that price. Ten or twelve years ago we all thought the California syndicate was paying high prices along Connecticut Avenue, at from $50 to $70 per acre. Now, this same property is actually selling at $2,000 and $2,500 per acre, and vast sums of money are being invested in its improvement."

United States Realty Company.

The United States Realty and Construction Company of New York, represented in Washington by Gen. S. S. Yoder, has undergone a violent change in its directorate. A number of the directors, all of them among the wealthiest real estate holders of the big city, have resigned and others elected in their stead. It is said, with place the control of the corporation in the hands of interests closely identified with the Standard Oil magnates. It is reported that the attitude of the company toward labor unions—one of pronounced hostility, it is alleged—has for some time been the cause of dissension and has now terminated in the change of controlling factors. It is understood that this change will not affect in any way the status of the corporation's interests in Washington.

The United States Realty and Construction Company was organized in the fall of 1902. It was the amalgamation of the New York Realty Corporation, the George A. Fuller Construction Company, and the real estate interests of the Central Realty Bond and Trust Company. It was capitalized at $60,000,000; $30,000,000 preferred, bearing a cumulative dividend of 6 per cent, and $30,000,000 common, upon which no dividend has been paid. An underwriting syndicate was formed, which furnished a cash capital of $11,000,000. Though powerfully backed, the company was unfortunately almost from the start. The public refused to take its securities, which, preferred and common, declined from $10 to $2 and 37 1/2 cents.

The company's financial troubles are said to have been the cause of the resignation of the directors. In August the United States Realty's first report was severely criticised, especially on the ground that dividends had been paid which had not been earned. The underwriting syndicate dissolved a few months ago, with a loss of $5,000,000.

IS REPORTED BY CRAM

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Among the passengers of the incoming Lucania today was J. Sergeant Cram, who said he met Richard Croker in London. Mr. Croker, he said, expressed pleasure at the recent Democratic victory in the municipal election, but beyond that did not talk politics. Croker, he said, had no intention of returning to New York at present.

AMERICAN AUDIT COMPANY.

The employment of professional accountants is resorted to by business concerns generally now than formerly because it is realized that it leads to the introduction of methods calculated to save labor and reduce expenses, insures the application of correct principles to facts and figures, affords a disinterested scrutiny of results and conditions, and an elucidation of the reasons therefor and means the adoption of the very best safeguard against fraud—that dividends had been paid which had not been earned.

HOW CONSUMPTION DEVELOPS

And How to Prevent and Cure It.

The illustration herewith shows at a glance the intimate and close relations of the various air tubes and the lungs and how easily it is for neglected bronchial and catarrhal troubles to extend down into and fasten themselves upon the breathing system. That consumption is the most terrible and deadly of all diseases is proven by the fact that the death each year from this awful scourge are greater than from all other contagious diseases combined.

At the first sign or indication of trouble, the sufferer should immediately resort to the best medical advice he can find, instead of wasting precious time with stomach nostrums which never cure a single case of genuine consumption, but which weaken the patient's constitution at the very time when he most needs all his bodily functions in their best working order.

The only way ever discovered to eradicate the consumption poison is by the inhalation of the healing, oily vapors of the Koch "Tuberculin," medicated with germicidal and curative oils. These wonderful vapors penetrate to the very seat of the disease, killing the germs and permanently curing consumption, asthma, and all lung diseases. Hundreds of people all over the land have been cured by the Koch treatment and are today living monuments of its success.

The Washington office of the Koch Lung Cure is at 1225 New York Avenue, where consultation, examination and trial treatment are given, absolutely free. Home treatment, if desired, without additional cost.

A slight cold, neglected, often settles in the head or throat, causing chronic catarrh. In the case of persons with weak lungs, or who are in any way predisposed to bronchial or asthmatic troubles, this neglected cold is very apt to gradually extend down through the air tubes and into the lungs themselves, causing consumption.

WILL HOLD CONFERENCE WITH THE TELEGRAPHERS

Baltimore and Ohio Official and Committee to Discuss Demands for Higher Wages Tuesday.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 16.—L. G. Haas, assistant general manager of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and a committee representing the Order of Railroad Telegraphers will have a conference at Camden Station Tuesday at 10 o'clock relative to the demand for an increase in wages and a reduction in the hours of the men at some of the block stations.

This morning Edward M. Van Atta, chairman of the committee, called at the Central Building and arranged for the conference. Fifteen hundred telegraphers in the employ of the Baltimore and Ohio are interested in the outcome of the conference next Tuesday. It is contended by railroad officials that the existing conditions in the industrial world do not justify the men in asking for concessions from the company. The men wish shorter hours and better pay.
